Senior Freshmen Day

The hardest job for the Seniors was trying to find their Freshmen sisters

Agnes, the Senior

Freshman-Senior Day, October 1st, was a great day at Agnes. It was a time to have fun, a time of unity and a day for freshmen and seniors to get to know each other. The seniors entertained the freshmen with skits and songs. Everyone had a good time. Flowers and gifts were exchanged and the freshmen found a friend who cares about her, someone she can depend on, in her senior sister. Knowing someone who's been through almost the same thing you're going through now can make everything a little easier.

The Student Activities Council (SAC) of St. Agatha is proud to have the cooperation of the various student activities that make up the school. The SAC is the link between the students and the school spirit. A devoted effort is made to keep the students informed of the school's progress. This year we have attempted to strengthen the SAC by having representatives from each class, from the Homeroom Representatives and Class Presidents. We have also had a student body president who will represent the interests of the students. The members of the council will be the SAC chairmen, Ana Maria Leticia M. and Phyllis Daddo, who will be in charge of the sports and recreation committee. The Homeroom Reps along with the executive board will compose the Representative Assembly. In addition, the SAC has various committees each with a chairman and a secretary. Ana Maria is responsible for conducting a specific activity and keeping the executive board informed of its progress. The members of these committees are expected to help in the school and cooperate in the planning and work of the activities. The secretary keeps minutes of the meetings and reports to the SAC. St. Agatha is proud to have the cooperation of the students, faculty and administration working together to make St. Agatha a better place to keep St. Agatha as good as it is.

Holy Cross was seething with people. They all seemed to anticipate the night events. The program opened with music from the Holy Cross Varsity Band. Then the action began. The first game was between the Holy Cross boys and their fathers in two-six minute games. Then the Agnes girls came out to compete against the boys in two-six minute games, followed by brothers/teachers vs. the boys.

The St. Agnes team consisted of Seniors disguised as: a priest (Laura Cole) a nun (Kathy Golden) as team captain; a motorcyclist (Mary Ann Yuen), hockey players (Jennifer Loud and Mary Bishop); football player (Ellen Arocho); a martian (Janet Dunn); a baby (MaGreen Richards), McDonald worker (Mary Ellen Murphy), a Team Coaches Anna Mola and Linda Mathe

Halloween

At Agnes, Halloween belongs to the Juniors. On this day the Juniors dress-up in costumes. It seems that each year the costumes become more and more artistic and creative than in the previous year. This year's Juniors weren't to be surpassed. The girls dressed in costumes ranging from a ferocious tiger to a sexy pom-pom girl.

After classes were finished the Juniors celebrated by having a party in the cafeteria.

Junior Trip

Bright and early on Saturday morning October 30, ninety-six eager juniors with luggage and cameras in hand, and five very patient chaperones boarded two luxury buses which were to take them to Washington D.C. Once in Washington the girls followed a tightly filled agenda. They were always on the go, visiting such places as the Capitol, John F. Kennedy Center, Washington Monument, Lincoln and Jefferson Memorial and Smithsonian Institute, the Bureau of Engraving and Printing and many more. Between the sightseeing tours the girls rested at Marion Hotel, where some enjoyed themselves in the pool, and others shopped for souvenirs. The buses returned the girls to College Point that following Monday night and the trip may have technically ended there but the memories will live on forever.

The girls enjoy their trip.

The Father-Daughter Square Dance had a new setting this year. It was held in the Madonna Room of St. Fidelis Church. The dancing was great with the dancers full of energy and high spirits. Refreshments were served and everyone left with a smile on their faces and a folk beat in their heart.

Thanksgiving

Our Thanksgiving Day Mass was held on November 23 in the auditorium which opened with guitar playing "Teach Your Children Well." Father Ron Petroski gave a dynamic homily. He made everyone feel at ease with a few jokes here and there. His talk although funny was quite meaningful. During the offertory the collected foods were brought up by volunteers in carton boxes. After Communion there was a slide presentation developed by Ellen Arocho to the music of Godspell's "All Good Gifts." After the Mass, you went away with a smile on your face, a thought in your mind, and a handshake from Father wishing you a Happy Thanksgiving.

Mr. Dixon with Jesus, the Christmas tree.

Around Christmas time a familiar tune can be heard coming from the gym and cafeteria but the words seem unfamiliar. That's because they are being sung in a different language. These songs reach their height at the Agui-nado Mass (Christmas Mass) when the whole school joins in to sing in Spanish. The school seems to hold an aura of peace and good-will. The mood brings to mind the words of an old Christmas Song "Why can't everyday be Christmas?"

Aside from the academics at Agnes there is a feeling of friendship and openness here. You can see this everywhere in the school.

The students here have always been proud of their freedom to grow as individuals and at the same time make new friends. In order for a person to grow, she must have some responsibilities and at Agnes we are able to be independent and grow into mature women.

Junior Ring Day

Finally the day we've been longing for since Freshman year is here. All weeks of stuffing our heads with books and papers, and the Mass that always came when we were broke, we received our "rings". Miss A. DiSarno and the Ring Day Committee created for the Juniors one of the most beautiful and memorable days of our high-school years. After the Mass was celebrated and the rings were given out, the Juniors spent the afternoon socializing and partying at various restaurants.

Sportsnite

In the Spring, St. Agnes has a Sportsnite. Everyone looks forward to it. In the meantime, the girls who participate, work and practice very hard to do the best they can for their team. Freshmen and Seniors are the white team and Sophomores and Juniors are the blue team. It is held at Holy Cross H.S. in the gym. Judges are there to see which team is the most qualified to win. They judge on spirit, costumes, neatness and teamwork of each team. Each team receives points. At the end of the evening it goes through to find out the winners. The School has a very rich tradition. Since this their last year, they have to find out how they will pass their traditions on to the next.

Senior Trip

This year, the Seniors went skiing in January. They spent the weekend in Massachusetts. On Friday, it seemed as if the day would never end. We had a snow fall that morning and the skiers were eager for the slopes. Finally they all boarded the buses and started on their journey. For the skiers, the slopes were great. Some adventurous seniors skied Friday night also. For the non-skiers there were amusements at the Hotel and in the town. But, all the Seniors will agree, that the trip went much too swiftly; before we knew it, we were on our way home again.

Graduation

A time for memories and reminiscing, a time for old and new friends. Graduation always seems to symbolize a new beginning. While we are sad at the thought of leaving everything familiar we are filled with happy anticipation of the future and what it might hold for us. Although our paths after graduation might differ in many ways, we'll never forget the friendships we've formed at Agnes.

Middle States

St. Agnes was visited this year by members of the Middle Atlantic Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

The preparation for these four days began in the 1975-76 school year when the school began an in-depth self-evaluation of itself. All these efforts culminated in a final report submitted to the Middle States Association.

As a result of this visit, St. Agnes received some recommendations and many commendations as a fine educational edifice. The committee commented on the dedication and industry of the faculty and the Spirit of the student body.

A CHALLENGE

On the first day of school not only were the freshmen lost but also the sophomores, juniors and seniors. Our general office had been moved to the faculty room and the old general office had been transformed into an administration office. But, this was not the only difference this year. We had a new administration, consisting of a new principal, Sr. Kathleen Waters and assistant-principals, Sr. Mary Higgins and Sr. Louise Raab. St. Agnes has undergone many changes this year, but St. Agnes is and always will be St. Agnes.

Physical Education

The Phys. Ed. department is perhaps the most popular department. In our classes we have a chance to learn and develop poise and coordination by dance and games. What is most surprising is that there are only two teachers in this department. They are in turn helped by the "Leaders Club." All the efforts of the department culminates in an exhibition called SPORTSNITE

If you had been here one day, you would have seen a bunch of girls coming into school in the middle of the day. Don't Worry! They were not late. National Honor Society

After a year of dormancy the Honor Society has been reactivated. Sr. Miriam Arthur, our moderator, got the Society moving at a rapid pace. After the second meeting we already had our president, vice-secretary and treasurer. The induction was planned for Feb. 3 and we were on our way. This year the Society included an abundance of hard workers both Senior and Junior.

Math League

The math league is composed of 14 and 15 graders. The members of each team participate annually at four contests which are conducted in schools in the NY-NJ area. Interscholastic and international trophies are awarded annually to the teams and individual students who score highest among the participating members of the league.

The Ronettes on a different achievement, the great success of the volleyball court overseer at St. Agnes! Things have been improving over the last several years. But this year, everything came together. The varsity team placed among the leaders in the October PSAL Invitational tourney. They then went on to win Agnes third Queens divisional title in eight years. They finally topped off their 11-1 season with a second place finish in the ocean championship. The JV Ronettes improved over last year's record and should help supply many players for next year's champion (?) team.

The members of the Future Teachers club spend time each week tutoring or acting as teacher's aides in St. Fidelis. The club gives the girls a chance to decide if they want a teaching career. It also helps the girls learn how to work with younger children. On certain days you could walk into St. Fidelis Grammar School and see Agnes students helping the younger children. These students are from the Future teachers Club. These girls learn what the world of teaching is about and this knowledge helps prepare them for a career in the teaching profession

"No No Nanette"

This year the spotlight shone on St. Agnes' presentation of the play "No No Nanette." The stage once again displayed Agnes' acting talents. Under the influence of Sister Ave and Sister Roseann, the play got underway in December and the cast spent many long hours rehearsing in order for the show to be a success. The lead role of Nanette, played by Laureen Montano, as well as the rest of the cast showed a truly fantastic performance. The chorus group, which both sang and danced numerous times, proved their importance in the play. The audience's response to the play was not only an ovation, but also an encouragement for more plays in the future.

Yearbook

A trip to Maryland last June and a weekend to Columbia gave the yearbook staff the greatest insight into the workings of a yearbook. From both these conferences the staff, with their moderator, learned new techniques that are involved in compiling a yearbook.

With this information we began this book full of anticipation and energy. Although we knew that being a staff member involves a great deal of time and effort—we have done it!

The editors of the yearbook held their staff meetings on Mondays and the smaller staffs worked during the week. All the staff members spent many hours helping to make this book something we're proud of. Due to our hard work and diligence this book has been presented to you without commercial interruption.

Hello friends
I'm so glad to see you
once again
It's sophomore year
A time to grow together
So take my hand
and we'll be on our way
Let's help each other along
We can make it

We made it through frosh year together
We know one another now
We can do it again if we try
Just think of the semi-formal
Of all the fun we had
Of all the memories that will go with us
As we travel on
When we have friends
LOVE never ends.

Juniors-from the blue
To the white we are united
To be ever changing
Cause tomorrow will be another day
With only the yesterdays to grow from
Showing only but a mark of change
From the first two years
Growing to a new stage not yet fearing
The day when we'll all be chosen
And placed to fulfill a new meaning
